AN EPIDEMIC OF BURGLARIES

Another Post Office and Country Store Burglarly Reported. Believed to be Same Gang that Operated at Cashtown and Zullinger.

An epidemic of burglaries and similar depredations seems to be spreading over Adams and the adjoining counties. It is generally believed that the same gang of men are doing the work at nearly all of the places.

The robbers who visited York Springs two weeks ago are said to have been other parties though they have disappeared and it is possible they may be working with those who have been alarming the people of the West end of Adams County, Franklin County and other nearby places.

The latest news comes from Winger-ton where the post office was entered and robbed of about $35.00 in stamps, cartridges, cigars and candy from the store of C. M. Horst and Company in the same building. Here, as at Cashtown and Zullinger, a building containing store and post office was entered. The manner of entering was much the same as that used at the other two places. The safe was not locked and they had no difficulty getting its contents.

The report of this burglary as well as the others has been sent to Washington and the federal authorities are expected to take steps to apprehend the gang of post office robbers who put in such busy nights.

The total sum of all they have secured will not reach $200, and as it is nearly all in stamps, they have not yet been well rewarded for their dangerous labors.

MR. WILLIAMS TO STAY

From the pulpit Sunday, Rev. Rene H. Williams, pastor of Messiah Lutheran church, Harrisburg, well known here, announced to his congregation that he would not leave his present pastorate, although he admitted that an Albany, N. Y., church had solicited him without extending an official call. Messiah's congregation had urged his remaining as soon as it was learned that he might accept the Albany pastorate and the minister decided to stay.

"No official call had been made," said Rev. Mr. Williams when speaking of the matter "though I was given to understand that I would be formally elected and called did I desire to let it go that far. As I knew I should decline I did not care to have the matter go as far as a formal call."

MANY JERSEY TOURISTS HERE

Over Three Thousand Sunday Visitors in Gettysburg. Great Proportion Came from Newark and Vicinity.

Sunday was the biggest single day Gettysburg has had this Summer with the exception of the time of the Regulars' monument dedication. Gettysburg had over three thousand visitors who came principally over the Reading road, that line bringing 2308 tourists here. The Western Maryland brought several hundred while there were some automobile parties.

By far the largest number of the tourists came from New Jersey, three sections being run by the Central Railroad of New Jersey from Newark and vicinity. The Pennsylvania Railroad also ran one train here while the Reading ran its regular.

Hackmen were kept busy all day long and the trolley cars were well filled. A number of people who seldom get out their teams were on hand Sunday and did a good business. The crowd was largely one of the "shoe box" variety and brought their lunches along but quite a lot of money was left in the town, the restaurants, eating stands and souvenir places doing a good business.

All of the excursionists got here between ten and twelve in the morning and left about six for home. There was no cause for police protection the large crowd being very orderly and well behaved.

Reindollar—Stehl

Edward E. Reindollar, president of the Birnie Trust Company and of the Reindollar Company, grain merchants, of Taneytown, and Mrs. Katharine Stehl, of Baltimore county, were married Tuesday, at the home of the bride's son, Allen O. Stehl, Linden Terrace, near Towson. The ceremony was performed before the immediate family by Rev. Philip Heilman, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Baltimore. After a breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Reindollar left for an automobile trip through the valley of Virginia as far as Roanoke.

TAKING PRECAUTION

The School Directors of Cumberland township have closed the Belmont School for several days owing to a case of Diphtheria appearing. As noted elsewhere Mervin Trimmer died from that disease on Sunday. The Belmont building will be thoroughly fumigated so that there can be no danger of the disease spreading and then the school will be re-opened. The Directors are to be commended on the care they are taking in dealing with the dangerous disease.

COLD SEPTEMBER

The monthly meteorological summaries by the weather bureau show last month to have been the coldest September in the past five years. The mean temperature for the month was sixty-five degrees, with the lowest, 44 degrees, registered on Wednesday and the highest on the 8th of the month when 38 degrees were recorded. The coldest month was recorded in 1888 with 62 degrees and the warmest, 1900, with 71 degrees.

BUCKWHEAT CROP

The buckwheat crop over in Fulton county this season will not average up to the usual normal crop, according to report. Some farmers report as short a yield as five bushels per acre. A farmer at Saluvia, however, reports the banner crop, 821 bushels, and he expects to get $1.25 a bushel for it.

"GOODBYE MISS LIBERTY"

The new McIntyre and Heath production, "In Hayti," now at the Circle Theatre, New York City, owes its success principally to one charming little song which fairly brings down the house at every performance. The song is "Goodbye, Miss Liberty," and it has made such a hit that The Sunday World has arranged to present it, words and music complete, with next Sunday's World. There will also be another set of pictures in colors of stage beauties drawn and painted by Archie Gunn, so there is a double treat in store for you in next Sunday's New York World.

GETTYSBURG WON

Gettysburg College defeated the East End Athletic Club of Steelton on Nixon Field Saturday afternoon in an uninteresting game of foot ball by the score of 18 to 0. All of the scoring was done in the first half of the game, a large number of Gettysburg substitutes and a strong West wind favoring the visitors decidedly in the latter part of the game. Gettysburg could not gain consistently against their defense while Steelton made a number of first downs. Hard work is ahead of the local college team if a creditable showing is to be made against Bucknell University on this coming Saturday.

NEW BOOK

The Houghton Mifflin Company this week publishes in book form Miss Elsie Singmaster's enjoyable story which ran for the past seven weeks in The Youth's Companion under the title "When William Comes Home." It has been found necessary to change the name of the book to "When Sarah Saved the Day." It is the story of a young Pennsylvania German girl, an orphan, and her efforts at home-making while one of her brothers is away in Alaska. The story was read with much interest by many Gettysburg people while running as a serial and will be read by many more after its appearance in book form.

MORSE EXPECTS AN ACQUITTAL

Convicted Banker Made $7,500,000 During the Summer.

BLAME ON ROOSEVELT

Declares Ex-President Made an Example of Him For What All Bankers Are Doing—Paid Off Over 80 Per Cent of His Debts.

New York, Oct. 4.—Charles W. Morse, under sentence to the penitentiary for violation of the national banking laws and under $125,000 bail pending an appeal, has made $7,500,000 in the past few months and has paid off 80 per cent of his debts. The balance he expects to clear away in a short time, and then to accumulate a few more millions of "velvet."

Morse is apparently perfectly confident that when his appeal is heard the verdict in his case will be set aside and that he will be freed of all taint of guilt.

For the first time since his conviction he discussed his case with great freedom. "Martin W. Littleton, my counsel, tells me that my chances of acquittal are 99 out of 100," he said, "and from that may be judged the feeling with which I face the future proceedings."

"Your friends," Mr. Morse was told, "say you have raised between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 since your release, and that you have applied this to your indebtedness."

"I wouldn't put it just that way," he replied. "If there can be any general interest in what I have done, why not say I have cleared off 80 odd per cent of my debts?"

From the records of the Morse case it is known that seven judgments were entered against him, and that he had four "open accounts" when trouble overtook him. Of these there remain one "open account," and the interest to which this was due is willing to await Morse's leisure.

Says He's Roosevelt's Victim.

"It is too early to tell how I have made the money—and where—during the present summer," said Mr. Morse. "In fact, it is too early to go into any detail at all. The score is not yet wiped out. When it is, then I can talk. Naturally I am optimistic about any appeal, and can only refer to Mr. Littleton's statement."

"I have been made the victim—not in any bid for sympathy, but that exact justice be done—of a system under which national banks of the entire country operate. I did nothing wrong and the change in public feeling since I was prosecuted has come from a better understanding of the transaction out of which came my indictment."

"To what interest or interests do you attribute your troubles?" he was asked. "Were personal or financial enemies involved?"

"No," he said, crisply. "The time was ripe for the government to make an example of some one, and I was chosen, I feel sure, at the personal direction of Mr. Roosevelt."

Says All Bankers Do It.

That Morse will not return to the Tombs from midnight on Oct. 9 until Oct. 11, when his case comes up in the United States circuit court of appeals, may be stated with authority from friends who have been closely in touch with him in the last few days. The three supreme court judges who granted the application for bail, it was stated, are expected to consent to a two-day extension of his $125,000 bond. His friends, too, declared Mr. Morse had seen the inside of a prison for the last time.

Then, continuing the discussion of his case, he said:

"I am certain that I could guarantee to convict the officials of almost any national bank in the United States upon the same grounds that I myself was convicted. Because they are guilty of wrongdoing? Not at all, but because all of them commit the same technical 'offenses' that were credited to me. The things I did are generally practiced, and in the eyes of national bankers constitute no offense."

BUSINESS IS RISING HIGHER

Washington, Oct. 4.—Continued improvement in the industrial situation of the United States is indicated by reports received during August by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor.

Unusually large movements of soft coal, coke and iron ore, and large shipments of lumber are indicated. Traffic activity of railroads is shown by the large number of cars in service. For the first time the cars in service show a larger total than for the corresponding month of 1907.

Grain receipts during August, at fifteen primary interior markets, aggregated 77,390,860 bushels, which compares favorably with 70,329,449 bushels for the same month in 1908 and 72,537,039 bushels in August of 1907. All classes of grain, with the exception of barley, show larger monthly receipts than a year ago. Receipts for the twelve months of the crop season ending in August aggregated 753,830,314 bushels, compared with 759,882,331 in 1908, and 838,921,920 bushels in the 1907 crop season.

FIFTEEN MINERS KILLED

Several More Injured, and Flames Threaten Fresh Explosion.

Roslyn, Wash., Oct. 4.—Fifteen men were killed and several seriously injured in an explosion in a shaft of a Northwestern Improvement company's mine here. The mine is still burning and another explosion is feared.

Colt, Shod, Scared to Death.

Chester, Pa., Oct. 4.—Howard Dutton, a farmer of upper Chester township, lost a valuable colt in a peculiar manner. The animal had not been shod for over a year, and when taken to the blacksmith shop it was very nervous, and all efforts to shoe it failed until it was placed in the stocks. Perspiration flowed from the animal's body in profusion, and after being shod the colt dropped to the ground and expired in a few moments, literally scared to death.

Chicago Germans Celebrate.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The Germans of Chicago celebrated the anniversary of the landing of the German "Pilgrim Fathers" and the founding of Germantown, Pa., on Oct. 6, 1683. The celebration was opened with a parade, in which more than 25,000 Germans participated and 500 societies were represented.

Father and Son Both Drop Dead.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—John W. Ferree, fifty-eight years old, dropped dead three days after his son fell dead. Eight years ago Ferree disappeared and the court declared him legally dead. Recently he returned to his family.

THE POPE IS ILL

Audiences Have Been Suspended Owing to Attack of Gout.

Rome, Oct. 4.—For several days past the pope has been sick, but he continued to see visitors, hoping to overcome what he considers a slight indisposition. Saturday he received in audience one of the archbishops, who noticed that the pontiff appeared tired and languid. After the audience was ended the symptoms became aggravated, there being considerable pain and swelling in the leg, which indicated a recurrence of the gout. Although the attack is slight, the pope's doctors have insisted upon complete rest, and the audiences have been suspended.

BABY LESS THAN 2 POUNDS

Could Place Her Inside a Quart Jar, and She's Decidedly Alive.

Duncannon, Pa., Oct. 4.—A baby girl weighing less than two pounds has just been born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston, of this place. Legs and arms about like clothespins; toes of the diameter of straws; hands that nickel coins would not cover, and an entire anatomy that could be fitted into a quart jar—these dimensions constitute the smallest bit of healthy humanity that ever came to Duncannon.

DIPLOMAT MAY HEAD NEW STEEL MERGER

Ambassador Leishman Confers With Frick Allies.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—Pittsburg is filled with rumors of the retirement of John G. A. Leishman, United States ambassador to Italy, from the post at Rome to assume the head of an independent combine in steel interests now being formed by H. C. Frick, the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh and others of financial standing.

Mr. Leishman, who was formerly one of Andrew Carnegie's partners and once president of the Carnegie Steel company, reached Pittsburg quietly Saturday morning, and has been closeted with those interested in this combination of smaller steel interests.

The Mellons, who are financing the new move to combine the Standard Steel Car company with several steel mills, including the Lackawanna Steel company and a new mill being built at a cost of $2,000,000, have always been close to Mr. Leishman and confident of his ability to handle any problem in iron and steel.

CHOOSING A BOAR.

With a Pure Bred There is an Assurance of Quality.

A prominent farmer of wide experience and much observation concerning swine says: No matter how many sows are kept on the farm the selection of the boar is of great importance. There are many pure bred hogs in all parts of the country, so there is no reason for the use of a scrub boar by any one.

The character of the get of a scrub boar is guesswork, whereas with the pure bred boar there is some assurance that his get will be uniform and of a quality indicated by his ancestors. When possible the boar should be selected on the place where he was raised.

It is best to see the methods used by the breeder of whom the purchase is made and not to vary them greatly in the care of the hog for the first few weeks in his new home. It is a mistake to buy a hog that is in show condition unless the buyer is acquainted with his quality in breeding condition.

READY TO END POLAR DISPUTE

Cook Agrees to Submit Records to American Scientists.

HIS COURTESY TO DANES

Will Ask University of Copenhagen to Waive Claim of Priority—Was Guest of National Press Club After Lecture in Washington.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, announced shortly after his arrival from New York to deliver his lecture, that he will acquiesce in the proposition that the University of Copenhagen be asked to waive its claim to a prior examination of his records, in order that American geographic societies and other scientific bodies in this country may be enabled to review his data. He said he would be satisfied to have the decisions of all these tribunals announced simultaneously.

Dr. Cook was lustily cheered as he passed through the streets, and when he arrived at the hotel he received a cordial greeting from the crowd that had gathered there.

Every available seat was occupied and standing capacity was taxed when Dr. Cook began his lecture at the theater.

Dr. Cook's lecture, which occupied about an hour in delivery, was frequently interrupted by cheering. He deviated but slightly from his previous utterances in describing his dash to the pole, and sought to confine himself more to his travels and experiences than to a discussion of criticisms aimed at him.

At the close of the lecture Dr. Cook was the guest of the National Press club during the remainder of the evening. He met personally the newspaper men of Washington and scores of others prominent in the official life of the capital. He was presented by William P. Spurgeon, president of the club, and responded briefly, to assure the writers that while he was fully conscious of the manner in which they had bombarded him since he landed in Copenhagen a month ago, that he was also alive to the fact that they were indebted to him as the means of filling newspaper space during a dull season.

Dr. Cook entered enthusiastically into the good fellowship of the occasion and appeared to enjoy the program which had been arranged in his honor. This included several Eskimo songs by the club's talent. Among the guests of the evening were Representative Roberts, of Massachusetts; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Reynolds; Secretary Moseley, of the Interstate commerce commission; Director John Barrett, of the bureau of American republics, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the government's pure food expert.

When Dr. Cook was introduced to Dr. Wiley, the latter at once began to ply the explorer with questions.

"Now I want you to tell me what 'pemican' is," demanded Dr. Wiley, who appeared more interested in what the explorer had to eat on his polar dash than in the discovery of the pole.

Dr. Cook explained that 'pemican' consisted of strips of meat without the fat, dried in the sun and pounded together with melted fat and often dried vegetables. Dr. Wiley shook his head and said: "Well, if that's the case, I guess we'll have to push the prosecutions under the food law to the North Pole."

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 4.—When search was made for the will of Charles D. Foster, a millionaire of this city, who died last Wednesday, it could not be found, and it is not known whether it has been stolen or mislaid. It was believed by Mrs. Foster and Attorney John McGahren to be in a safe in Foster's office, but it is not there, and Register of Wills Smith was at once notified of the fact and asked not to probate any will not offered by the proper parties.

Foster left about $1,500,000, much, it is said, to charity. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, the wife of Dr. Frank Thornton Jenkins, of Philadelphia.

The body was taken, with the greatest secrecy, to the coroner's office. Two other babies were found along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

ESKIMO KILLED AND ATE HIS CHILD

Beat Off Neighbors Who Attacked Him and Fled.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 4.—Tragedy in the far north formed the burden of the news brought to port by the Hudson Bay company's steamer Adventure, which arrived with the crew of the lost Dundee whaler Paradox, and the story of an Eskimo, who, driven to cannibalism by starvation, ate his own child, and shooting several neighbors who attempted summary punishment, fled into the trackless wilderness of ice.

The Paradox, one of the fleet of whalers, met the fate of her companion ship, the Snow Drop, when she was crunched in the ice floes off Baffin Land, early in August a year ago. The crew, with scanty provisions, made their way over the broken ice towards the mainland and were picked up this fall by the steamer.

The Hudson bay mounted police report, through dispatches brought by the Adventure, the cannibalism of the starving Eskimo. The man's fishing and hunting season had been a failure and, driven mad by hunger, he cut the throat of one of his children and then ate the little victim.

When the man's neighbors learned of the horrible crime they attacked him according to the primitive law of their race. The outcast beat off all assaults, shot down several of the attacking party and escaped into the wilderness. His fate is unknown.

TOOK VENGEANCE ON HORSE

Frightened From House, Burglar Slashes Driving Mare.

Lincoln, Del., Oct. 4.—Balked in his effort to rob the house of William Cahoon, a burglar entered the stable and cut a handsome driving mare about the flanks with a sharp knife, injuring the animal seriously. When the burglar tried to enter the house, Cahoon heard him prying at the kitchen door and frightened him away. About the same time some one entered the home of Miss Elizabeth Risler and stole $10 from a table drawer.

Shot Resisting Arrest.

Eastville, Va., Oct. 4.—Alfred Thignton, a colored man of desperate character, was shot and killed here by Sergeant John Dennis. The officer had a warrant for the arrest of Thignton. Thignton pulled his revolver, but before he could shoot the officer fired three shots, two of which took effect. Thignton was wanted for selling whisky without a license.

Breakfast Late, Shot at Wife, Kills Self

New York, Oct. 4.—Enraged at his wife because breakfast was not ready on time, Edward F. Muller, a special detective, shot at her with a revolver, and when he saw her fall, turned the weapon against himself and blew out his brains. His wife was not even scratched by the bullet. She had fainted from pure fright. Muller died almost instantly.

Shot Cousin While Loading Gun.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 4.—Albert Kraft, aged thirteen years, was shot and almost instantly killed near Columbia by his cousin, Alfred Groom, seventeen years old. The elder lad had borrowed a revolver for the purpose of protecting himself from an alleged wild man and was loading it when the weapon was accidentally discharged.

TAFT LAYS A CORNERSTONE

Handled Silver Trowel at Ceremony in Portland, Ore.

SUPPORTS ALL CHURCHES

President Declares That No Church That Preaches Doctrine of True Religion Will Lack His Support to Make It More Influential.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 4.—President Taft on Sunday preached another sermon. The scene changed from the Mormon tabernacle at Salt Lake City a week ago to the cornerstone laying of the First Universalist church in East Portland.

The president handled the silver trowel and worked hard to see that the stone was properly adjusted. His apparent earnestness in setting the stone called out great applause from the open air audience.

The president referred to his various church experiences, and in concluding said:

"No church in this country, however humble it may be, that preaches the doctrine of true religion and true morality will lack my earnest support to make it more influential whenever opportunity offers."

Mr. Taft had a truly religious day, which began when he attended the morning services at the First Unitarian church in Portland and listened to a sermon by Rev. W. G. Elliot, Jr. Following this service the president was the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered by Senator Bourne and which included the various state and city officials.

In the early afternoon the president visited St. Mary's Roman Catholic school and made a five minute address to the school children, in which he declared that loyalty to the church meant fidelity to country.

The line of march followed by the presidential party to East Portland was crowded and there was handclapping and cheering all along the way. After the president had been introduced at the cornerstone laying by Rev. James Corby, pastor of the church, he said:

"I don't know that any one questions the propriety of my being here and officiating on such an occasion as this or that an explanation of any sort is called for. But I want to say that I believe it to be the duty of the president of these United States to welcome and to suggest every instrument by which the morals and religion of the community may be elevated and maintained. Not long ago I officiated at the cornerstone laying of an Orthodox Congregational church in Washington. Then I appeared in the pulpit of a Jewish tabernacle at Pittsburg. But a few days ago I helped to lay the cornerstone of a Catholic institution at Helena, Mont.

"And now it is my great pleasure to assist here in laying the cornerstone of this Universalist church, which, like my own, the Unitarian church, is known as a liberal one.

"I am glad always to be present at such occasions as these, for I believe the cornerstone of modern civilization must continue to be religion and morality."

HAD PREMONITION OF DEATH

Falls Out of Bucket High in Air and Is Killed.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 4.—E. J. Beveridge dreamed that the cable which carries a bucket used in excavation work at the new Salt Lick dam of the Johnstown Water company had broken. Beveridge was employed as signalman on the cable and always rode with the bucket, high in the air. The cable did not break, but the bucket became tilted in some manner, and Beveridge, losing his balance, fell out. For 135 feet his body plunged through the air to the earth's surface and then shot thirty-five feet into a water-filled cistern. The bucket followed him into the cistern and it was necessary to pump the water out to extricate his remains, which were badly mangled.

Posed For Picture in Canoe; 2 Drown.

Amesbury, Mass., Oct. 4.—While posing in a canoe to have their pictures taken, Joseph Mannahan, aged twenty-four, and his brother Frederick, aged seventeen, were capsized and drowned in Lake Gardner, in full view of Miss Bella Bailey, a young woman friend, who was about to snapshot them from the shore. The young men could not swim.

Coal is Money— Save It!

Every time you put coal on the fire, just remember that you are shoveling money. Don't waste it! If you have one of those old-fashioned hot-air coal eaters, you can save half of your usual coal bill, and at the same time have more heat, distributed evenly from first floor to attic, at all hours, no matter how cold the weather.

MODEL Heating System

Saves coal because it burns it thoroughly and circulates every bit of the heat through the house. Saves your time, because it almost runs itself. Makes very few ashes, and those few are fine and white—no clinkers or black coals. The safest, ablest, most economical heating system, as proved in thousands of homes. Steam or hot water.

LEDOM Range

Makes a big fire with a little coal. Gets all the heat out of coal, leaving only fine white ashes. No need to sift ashes if you have a Ledom. Fire always fine for broiling, keeps the water tank hot, and has a big oven that keeps hot all through. The best range that can be made.

BOWLDER FOUNDATION.

One of New England's Most Substantially Built Highways.

If you were to try to find the most substantially built road in New England it would not in all probability be necessary to go farther than Acton Center, Mass., to locate the one which would take first premium for solidity. Just beyond the town, was a considerable hill, but there is not as much of a climb there now as formerly, for it has been cut down very perceptibly.

The old condition was far from pleasing to Augustus Conant, who lives but a short distance from the foot of the hill. He informed the town that if the hill could be cut down and slightly relocated he would put in the necessary foundation for a first class road, the town to put on the finishing touches, and his proposition was readily accepted by the voters.

For the new basis of the new highway Mr. Conant had carted to the spot many loads of field stones and innumerable bowlders, large and small. Some of them weighed several tons, and it is asserted that there is not in all probability another road in the United States which can boast of such a foundation as the one which was constructed to the liking of the town's benefactor. In some parts of the road it has a solid stone foundation of several feet.

POISON DOES IT

Rheumatism Caused by Uric Acid and Other Poisons.

If you have Rheumatism, get rid of it; don't think you must suffer longer, for People's Drug Store has a remedy that will free you from this poisonous disease or they will give you back the 50c you paid for it. It never fails. It cured a Cleveland man. Why should it not cure you. He says:

For several years I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism in my back and hips, and was unable to get in or out of bed without assistance. A friend recommended Rheuma and it cured me completely." Elmer E. Clayton, 58 Center Ave.

Rheuma acts quickly. It starts at once to drive the uric acid from the system; it drives all poisons from the kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels and completely cleanses and renovates them. It is a wonderful prescription of a wonderful physician and deserves a trial by every Rheumatic sufferer.

ROAD DRAGGING EXPERIENCES

Pennsylvania Supervisor Tells of Value of Using the Drag.

Supervisor Albert Groff of East Hempfield township, Lancaster county, Pa., writes about the drag as follows:

"First of all, road dragging smooths the roads. We have found that out since we have been using the drag. The second thing is that road dragging makes the roadbed firmer and enables it to shed water quicker than a road which has been undrained and neglected. This is another of our experiences. The third thing we have shown has been that a little dragging done at the right time is worth a lot more than dragging done in the thick dust. This latter dusty condition of the road is not the time to work on the road with a drag, but any other time will do, though the best time of all is right after a rain. When we first began to drag the township roads the neighbors, many of them, were skeptical. So were we. But as things went on the proof was demonstrated, and now we are beginning to wonder why we did not adopt it years ago.

"The principle of working up the soft, sticky mud of a clay or loam character means that it will grow hard when left to the rays of the sun, and it is this idea of working up a soft roadbed after every rain, of smearing over the entire road surface a thin layer of soft, pliable mud which will become dry and hard, that I now realize is giving us our solid roadbeds where the drag is working. Our supervisor board pays the farmers who drag the roads by their farms 35 cents per hour for their labor. We are planning to put more drags on our township roads very soon. We have forty-four miles of dirt roads in East Hempfield township, our assessed valuation is $3,000,000, and our road tax is 2 mills."

IT IS WONDERFUL

Many People of Gettysburg are Reporting Great Results.

Many of the newspapers of Indiana and Pennsylvania during the past few months have published a great deal about the new medicine that is now creating so much talk here in Gettysburg. Judging from the reports that are now pouring into The People's drug store, Root Juice is even more wonderful than is generally supposed. A number of home people that have suffered for years with indigestion, rheumatism, kidney troubles or nervous affections are reporting rapid recovery under the juice treatment. A well known lady who for social reasons does not wish her name published said "I was confined to my bed when I commenced to take Root Juice, but after taking a few doses I was able to get up and am rapidly regaining flesh and strength. I had no appetite when I started with the medicine, and the food I forced down would sour and ferment in my stomach, causing a raw, burning sensation that was almost unbearable, but after taking the great remedy a few days I am able to eat anything and digest it without a single disagreeable symptom."

The people at The People's drug store are now busy listening to reports of this nature and explaining the curative value of the great medicine. The scientist has hundreds of testimonials and many of them are from among the very best people of the county. The juice seems to have a wonderful, soothing, healing and tonic action on the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. During the demonstration period it is sold for a bottle or three bottles for $2.50.

An Easy and Harmless Way To Darken The Hair

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by People's Drug Store.
